

The aim is to show the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.

The objective is to ensure that the operations manager of the firm has the greater growth rate in a scenario of environmental changes, which is accurate and economically viable.

For management:

- 1. Explain and discuss the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.
- 2. Evaluate the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.
- 3. Discuss the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.
- 4. Discuss the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.
- 5. Discuss the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.

For environmental changes for the firm:

- 1. Explain and discuss the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.
- 2. Evaluate the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.
- 3. Discuss the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.
- 4. Discuss the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.

For the firm:

- 1. Explain and discuss the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.
- 2. Evaluate the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.

For the firm's operations:

- 1. Explain and discuss the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.
- 2. Evaluate the key elements of management and production of output with healthy and sustainable growth for the firm.